PROFESSION

WAYWEAVER

"None, can claim to be as offensively minded as us. Our approach is ever one of attack, no matter who or what we face."

– YWAIN DEEPWELL

Hailing from the Thunderplains of Aria, the Wayeaver is a creature of war and survival. A common profession amongst the thousand and one tribes, these warriors, empowered with magical runes, train themselves to battle the many dangers from the northern lands and from the dark portals to the land of Ulden.

For this purpose the Glyphs of Ieren bound to the legs of the Wayweavers allow them to move at great speads and jump great distances, utilizing their spears to charge and, in may ocasions, fall upon their enemies with deadly impact.

HEROIC ABILITIES

JUMP

- Requirement: Spears 12
- Willpower Points: 3 or 1

As your action, choose a visible enemy within your movement distance. You leap over intervening creatures, uneven ground and low obstacles before landing beside the target.

Make a Spears attack with a boon. If the attack hits, it inflicts an additional D6 damage.

Jump cannot be used when restrained, trapped under a low ceiling or carrying more than your encumbrance limit.

Outside combat, you may spend 1 WP to gain a boon on an Acrobatics roll made to jump, vault, descend safely or rush forward.

HIGH JUMP

- Prerequisite Jump
- Willpower Points: 4

Use your action to leap high above the battlefield. Remove your character from the immediate combat area.

Until your next turn:

- You cannot be targeted by melee attacks.
- You cannot be affected by hazards at ground level.
- You cannot take reactions or perform other actions.
- Enemies can move normally while you are airborne.

On your next turn, choose a visible location within 2xmovement distance and land there. You must use your action to make a Spears attack against an adjacent target.

The attack gains a boon. On a hit, roll one additional die of the same type as the spear's base weapon damage. Apply your damage bonus only once.

If no suitable target remains, you may land safely without attacking.

DRAGON'S DESCENT

- Prerequisite High Jump
- Willpower Points: 6

Activate Dragon's Descent when landing from High Jump. The total cost of the maneuver is 6 WP rather than High Jump's normal 4 WP.

Make one Spears attack with a boon.

On a hit:

- The attack ignores armor.
- Add two additional dice of the same type as the spear's base damage. Apply your damage bonus only once.

Whether the main attack succeeds or fails, every other creature within 2 meters of the landing point suffers D6 damage from the impact. Armor protects normally against this secondary damage.

Dragon's Descent cannot be combined with other damage increasing abilities.

VAULTING GUARD

- Prerequisite Spears 12
- Willpower Points: 3

You may attempt to dodge an attack without consuming your action for the round. The bonus dodge can be performed at any time during the round and is done using Acrobatics instead ofEvade.

On a successful roll, you may also move up to your movement after avoiding the attack, as if you were using Jump.

You cannot use Vaulting Guard while prone, restrained or unable to use your spear.

This ability is only usable once per round.

DEFIANT BLOOD

- Prerequisite Jump
- Willpower Points: 4

Activate Defiant Blood when you successfully damage an enemy with Jump, High Jump, or Dragon's Descent.

You gain the following benefits:

- Recover D8 HP.
- Gain D4 temporary HP that can raise you above your normal maximum.
- Your next spear attack before the end of the following round gains a boon
